

Interviews Analysis

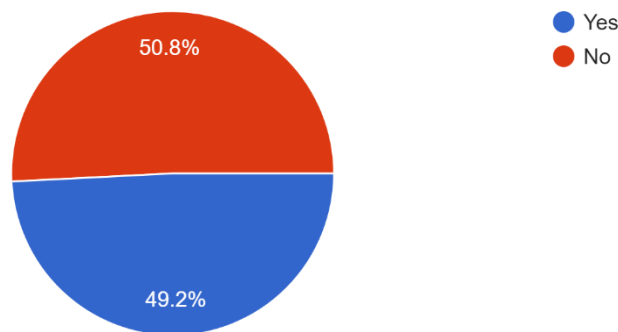

When learning a new skill, most people search for online tutorials.

- YouTube, Khan Academy, Codecademy, LinkedIn Learning

When people want to ask questions about/reinforce academic material, most people search online.

- Google, YouTube, Online textbooks, Material from other classes in other colleges

Have you ever been tutored?

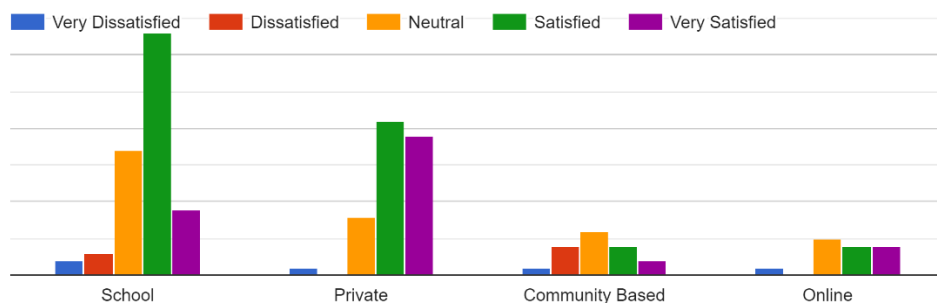

Why did people choose to not take tutoring? Most did not need it or ever considered it

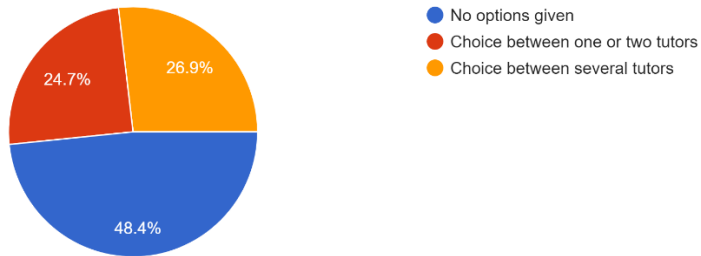

Where do people go for tutoring? Most found it through the school or went to a private tutor

How did people find out about the tutoring service? Mostly through school referrals and family/friend recommendation

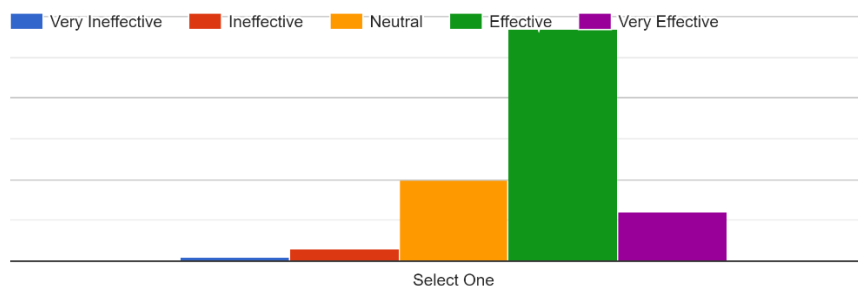

Ratings of experience with tutoring:

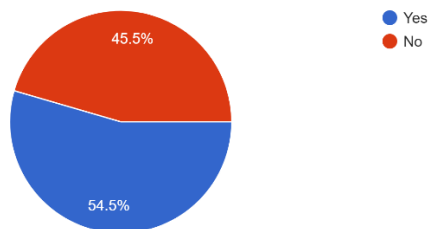

Number of tutors found based on subject:

How effective was tutoring?

People who have tutored

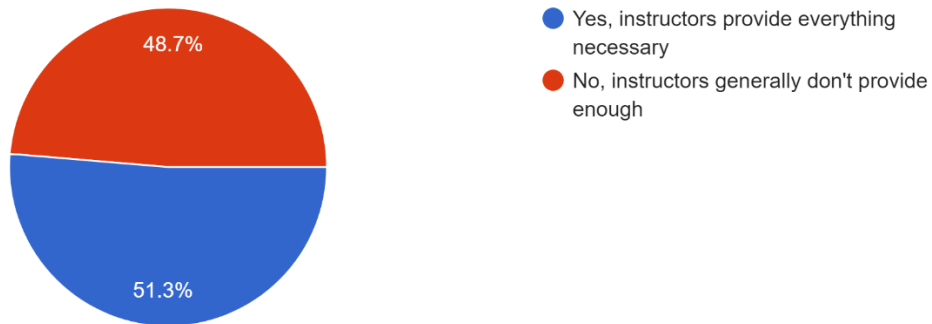

Tutor platform

- Mostly through school and privately

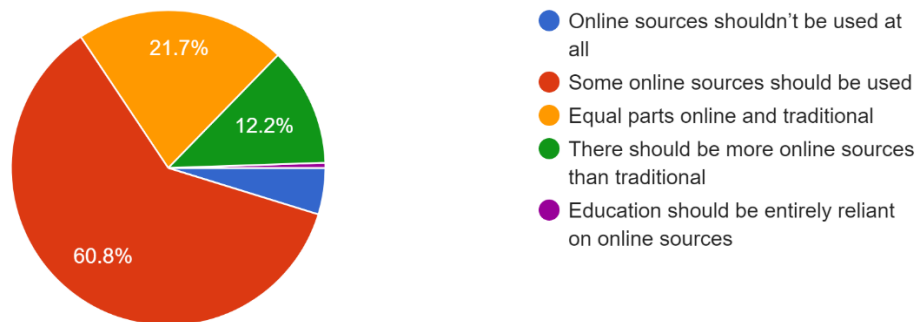

Why people do not tutor?

- Most of them responded with no interest, never found a platform, or never considered it

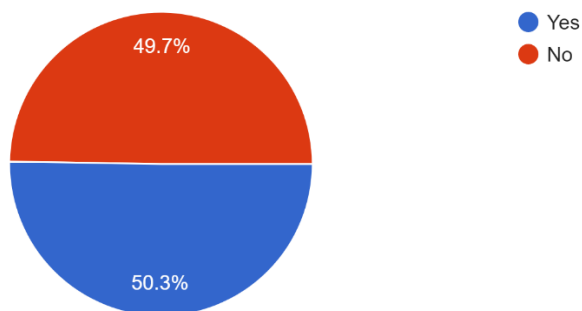

People's thought on resources in the course that the instructors provide

How much of people's education do people think should come from online?

Do you think current online tutoring works?

What people think are the biggest obstacles in learning something new?

